

The 4th international

PoCUS workshop 2025

Date: February 13-15th , 2025

We are delighted to extend a warm invitation to you for the 4th International Point-of-Care Ultrasound (PoCUS) workshop will be held between 13th – 15th February 2025, the Salil Riverside Hotel in Bangkok, Thailand.

At present, the use of ultrasound for multiple clinical applications has expanded dramatically. Point-of care ultrasound (PoCUS) in anesthesia is the use of ultrasound at bedside to do either of the following: guide a procedure (nerve blocks, vascular access) or answer a clinical question (diagnostic). The American Society of Anesthesiologists guideline statements has encouraged the use of PoCUS by properly trained clinicians.

Upon completing of this workshop, the participants will gain more knowledge on the indications, technical skills and clinical applications of point-of-care ultrasound. Scope of practice of diagnostic PoCUS relevant to perioperative anesthesiologists on focused cardiac, lung, gastric, focused ultrasound for deep vein thrombosis, ultrasound-guided nerve blocks and vascular access.

We are honored to host this significant three-day workshop at the Salil Riverside Hotel in Bangkok, Thailand. Participants will be trained by experts in the field, including:

- Prof. Vincent Chan, Department of Anesthesia and Pain Management, University of Toronto, Canada
- Assoc. Prof. Oliver Panzer, Department of Anesthesiology, Critical Care & Pain Management, Hospital for Special Surgery, New York, U.S.A.
- Assoc. Prof. Nibras Bughrara, Adult Critical Care Division, Albany Medical College, U.S.A
- Prof. Andre Denault, Department of Anesthesiology and Pain Medicine, Montreal Heart Institute, Canada
- Dr. Lars Knudsen, Department of Anaesthesiology and Intensive Care, Aarhus University Hospital, Denmark

Participants will also have the opportunity to discuss, share, exchange, and learn from different countries across the Asia-Pacific region and beyond. We eagerly anticipate your participation in this workshop and look forward to welcoming you to Bangkok, Thailand.

Best regards,

The organizing committee
